

Introduction of International Student PIANTHAM Chayada (First Batch)

I participated in an exchange program with the School of Veterinary Medicine of Hokkaido University when I was a student at Kasetsart University, which led me to enroll in Graduate School of Infectious Diseases, Hokkaido University. Currently, I am learning the basics about the new concept of One Health and the necessary skills. My communication skills have improved through the planning and organization of student-organized academic events, and I am looking forward to experiencing the field through overseas training and internships in my third year.
